There will be plenty of parking on campus available on Sunday, May 11, 2014. Prospective graduates as well as their family and friends can park in any parking lot with the exception of reserved spaces and fire lanes. However, a section of Parking Lot 1 (near the main gate) will be designated for VIP and handicapped Commencement parking. Please do not park at area businesses during Commencement. Your vehicle will be subject to ticketing and/or towing. Fines and fees will apply.

Handicapped spaces will continue to be reserved for only handicapped designated cars. Handicapped parking and the wheelchair drop-off points for Commencement parking will be located in Parking Lot 1 and campus-wide. Special needs and handicapped seating will also be designated in Alumni Stadium. Parking on the grass anywhere on campus is prohibited. See campus map [2].

PROCESSIONAL AND RECESSIONAL

Processional (starts at 9:30a.m.): The procession will move as directed by the Chief Marshal for Commencement. Keep the space in the line proportionate. The distance between you and the person in front of you should be kept at approximately arm?s length. When you reach the row to which you are directed, move into it promptly. Please make sure that there are no vacant seats in the row.

When you reach your seat, please remain standing until the signal to sit down is given by the Marshal, who will be on the platform stage.

Recessional: The faculty and students will stand on a signal from the Chief Marshal. On the second signal from the Chief Marshal,the platform party will exit Alumni Stadium. Thefaculty will follow the platform party and then the students/graduates will recess last after signal.

COMMENCEMENT AWARDS

Student achievement awards will be presented by the president of the University during MAY Commencement: The (Presidential Academic Award and the Presidential Leadership Award)

The Presidential Academic Award ?This award is presented to the graduate(s) who have the highest GPA in the Class. The awarded graduate must have earned at least 90 credit hours from DSU. In the event of a tie, the award will go to the graduate with the most DSU credit hours. In case of a tie in GPA and credit hours, co-awards will be presented. The Office of Records and Registration will determine the eligible recipients.

The Presidential Leadership Award ?This award is based on the judging of submitted nominations. Candidates for this award complete an application, and submit a resume and essay outlining leadership activities at DSU, three letters of recommendation, as well as a portfolio that includes copies of certificates, awards and other supporting documentation. Students graduating in December 2013 may apply for this award. However, this award will be presented at the Commencement in May of 2014.
