Important Information

Admission Requirements

Admission is granted on the basis of grades, test scores, references and other evidence.

Statement to Returning Students

An application fee for readmission and a $50.00 nonrefundable application fee must be submitted to the Graduate Program, Office of Admission by students who wish to return after the elapse of three consecutive terms between the last date of attendance and the next registration. Applicants for readmission must update their credentials by providing information relevant to any courses taken at other institutions during their absence from the University.

Statement to Transfer Students

Applicants who have earned a grade of "B" or higher in graduate courses taken at an accredited institution and related to their proposed program of study can request consideration for transfer credit. These courses will be evaluated on an individual basis by the respective Graduate Program. Applicants admitted to master's degree graduate programs may transfer a maximum of nine (9) graduate credits from another accredited institution toward the master's degree, provided these credits have not been used to meet the requirements of a degree previously earned.

Transfer credits for applicants admitted to doctoral programs with an earned master's degree from an accredited institution will be evaluated on an individual basis by the department and approved by the dean of the respective college. Supporting documentation must be provided by the student with the request for transfer of credit. The respective graduate program director and department chairperson and the dean of graduate studies and research must give written approval at the time of admission for the transfer credits.

The transfer credit must be directly related to the graduate student's program of study and must have been completed within the time limit allowed by Delaware State University for the graduate degree sought by the applicant. Some graduate programs have special transfer of credit regulations. Students must check with their graduate program director. Transfer of credits must be made within one year of acceptance.

The transfer credit limit does not apply in the case of courses to be taken at another institution that are approved in advance by the respective graduate program director or taken per an approved joint program that includes courses offered at other accredited institutions.

International Students

The University will consider international students whose transcripts are cleared by the Office of Admissions. Students desiring to enter the University should have official copies of their transcript(s) forwarded to the Office of Admissions early in the year preceding the semester in which they desire to enter. Students educated outside the United States are required to have a minimum TOEFL score of 550. Furthermore, international students are totally responsible for their financial obligations and visa forms.

2009–2010 Student Expenses

The following general University fees do not include such items as transportation, textbooks, personal items, social affairs, etc. Students are advised to allocate $1,250 to $1,500, depending on personal circumstances and spending habits, per school year to cover such additional expenses. Be sure to refer to our Web site (www.desu.edu) for more details. (Prices subject to change.)
