DELAWARE STATE UNIVERSITY’S STRATEGIC PLAN

Delaware State University’s Strategic Focus

A. Basic Philosophy and Values

Delaware State University is committed to excellence. It seeks to be the best in all that it does. The University believes that this uncompromising pursuit of excellence is best achieved through teamwork.

The University is committed to providing students with a complete and high quality educational experience. The University, therefore, not only seeks to provide high quality academic programs, but also seeks to provide students with an excellent campus life experience and opportunities to participate in extra-curricula activities of quality.

Delaware State University is an 1890 land-grant institution committed to the philosophy on which it was founded. Thus, the mission can be simply stated as involving teaching, research and outreach.

The University is committed to providing all undergraduate students with a strong liberal arts education. This essential part of the student’s education serves as the foundation for studies in the major areas.

Delaware State University considers the changing needs of students as a major institutional priority. The University believes that (1) students must receive the education required for employment and upward mobility; (2) more minority students must be prepared for graduate and professional education, especially in areas in which they are traditionally under-represented; and (3) students should be exposed to new developments in currently existing curricula using diverse teaching strategies. Delaware State University places major emphasis on quality teaching. At the same time, the University recognizes that the faculty are obligated to engage in research to increase the storehouse of knowledge in various disciplines and fields and, as appropriate, to apply that knowledge to the solution of community, regional, national, and international problems. The University also believes that faculty involvement in research substantially enhances the quality of teaching and expects that students will be provided opportunities to engage in research. Through research, faculty members can continually expand their professional knowledge base and maintain the vitality of their teaching.

In addition to the primary emphasis on high quality teaching and the accompanying obligation to engage in research and outreach, the University is committed to serving the surrounding communities, the State of Delaware, and the Nation.

B. Clientele

Delaware State University serves a diverse student population that includes members of various racial and ethnic groups, traditional and non-traditional students, Delawareans and non-resident students, international students, and students of varying socioeconomic backgrounds. In addition to student clientele, the University also seeks to serve external and internal constituencies comprised of civic and business leaders, legislators, alumni, parents, friends, corporations and foundations, the University family of faculty and staff, and other organizations such as service clubs, agencies, and associates.

As a public institution, the University attempts to maintain an appropriate mix of in-state and out-of-state students.
As a historically black institution, the University is committed not only to ensuring access to African Americans, but also to providing a conducive and supportive environment that will maximize the opportunities for success for all students.

As an 1890 land-grant institution, Delaware State University provides programs in research and extension designed to meet the needs of all Delawareans. Various programs are designed especially to meet the needs of families of low socioeconomic backgrounds and farmers with limited resources.

C. Comparative Advantage

Delaware State University has several strengths and unique features that make it a desirable institution for post-secondary education. These features provide an advantage over its major competitors. The strengths and unique features are:

1. Highly favorable student – teacher ratio and an inviting campus environment;
2. Attractive tuition and quality academic programs;
3. Highly qualified and committed faculty;
4. A multiracial and multicultural environment;
5. Opportunities for students to develop leadership skills by participating in various student organizations and activities;
6. Comprehensive program offerings;
7. Equitable admissions policy;
8. Opportunities for challenging undergraduate and graduate research and independent study;
9. Programs and support services to meet the needs of a diverse student body;
10. Degree programs unique to the State and/or region; and
11. Strategic and convenient geographic location.

D. Program/Service Mix

Delaware State University is a comprehensive institution that provides students with a broad liberal arts education. The University also offers degree programs in agriculture and natural sciences, humanities, social sciences, selected professional areas and graduate programs in eleven disciplines. Eighty-five (85) percent of the total enrollment is expected at the undergraduate level during the next five years. Also, during the current planning period, emphasis will be placed on strengthening existing programs. New degree programs will be considered only if (1) a clear need is identified and (2) resources to implement programs are identified.

Delaware State University had established an assessment process for the entire institution. Academic and administrative program reviews will be conducted with an objective to maintain a quality institution by the determination of an efficient mix of academic programs and student support services. Additionally, the determination of those programs that need to be strengthened, expanded or eliminated will be recommended to the Strategic Planning Committee.

E. Geographic Service Area

The University serves students from all three counties of Delaware. The University also serves students from the neighboring states of Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, the District of Columbia; and the states of New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Virginia. This constitutes the major geographic area served by the University. Thus, the University is a regional institution that primarily serves the State of Delaware and secondarily, serves the neighboring and certain northeast states. To complete the mix of students, a small proportion of students come from states. not located in the primary or secondary geographic areas. The University also serves students from various foreign countries and U.S. territories, including Guam, U.S. Virgin Islands, and Puerto Rico.

The University prefers to offer its programs on the main campus, but it is recognized that the needs of many persons living in Sussex and New Castle counties can only be met by offering courses within those counties. Thus, the University offers and will continue to offer selected courses and limited program options at off-campus sites within Sussex County and New Castle County.
MISSION STATEMENT

Delaware State University is a public, comprehensive, 1890 land-grant institution. The mission of the University is to provide for the people of Delaware and others who are admitted, meaningful and relevant education that emphasizes both the liberal and professional aspects of higher education. Within this context, the University provides educational opportunities to all qualified citizens of this state and other states at a cost consistent with the economic status of the students as a whole. While recognizing its historical heritage, the University serves a diverse student population with a broad range of programs in instruction, service, and research, so that its graduates will become competent, productive and contributing citizens.
VISION STATEMENT FOR DELAWARE STATE UNIVERSITY

Delaware State University will be a diverse, selective teaching, research and service university in the land-grant tradition, serving the people of the state of Delaware and the region. It will be a university of first choice for students from the state. It will:

- Excel in the education of undergraduates in the Liberal Arts and in the professional, technical and scientific development of the workforce.

- Attain a significant educational presence in all three Delaware counties, emphasizing also services for adult learners and providing for the re-certification needs of professionals.

- Provide an important engine for research and economic development in Delaware, especially in Kent and Sussex counties.

- Offer an array of master’s and doctoral programs in areas of importance to the social and economic development of Delaware. Through those programs graduate leaders in areas such as education, the natural, social and health-related sciences and professions, agriculture, social work, aviation and business.

- Develop a community of scholars with talent and expertise that will garner regional and national recognition.
