Program Mission and Goals

As a historically black 1890 land-grant institution, Delaware State University has pursued education of all peoples, bringing a diverse and global perspective to the education of its students. Both students and faculty contribute an international flavor that sets the university apart from other institutions of similar size. The mission of Delaware State University as approved by the Board of Trustees in December 2011 is to “offer[s] access and opportunity to diverse populations from Delaware, the nation, and the world. Building on its heritage as a historically black college, the University purposefully integrates the highest standards of excellence in teaching, research, and service in its baccalaureate, master’s and doctoral programs. Its commitment to advance science, technology, liberal arts, and the professions produces capable and productive leaders who contribute to the sustainability and economic development of the global community”.

Coordinated Program in Dietetics Mission

In accordance with the mission of Delaware State University and the College of Agriculture & Related Sciences, the Coordinated Program will graduate a diverse group of culturally competent leaders in dietetics who will provide quality food and nutrition services, promoting, improving, or restoring health and well-being of people in their state, nation, and/or around the globe.

Coordinated Program in Dietetics Goals

- CP graduates meet or exceed entry-level competency standards for dietitians in their chosen area of practice.
- CP graduates are culturally competent servant leaders in their profession and/or community.
